

Large print and audio publications

Audio and large print books are stocked by most libraries and specific titles can usually be ordered. Many libraries have machines to download audio books onto. Most book retailers can order large print or audio versions. When shopping online add large print/audio to your search criteria. www.amazon.co.uk is a good source of large print and audio books.

Newspapers and Magazines

The National Talking Newspaper Association – TNAUK – provides over 200 national newspapers and magazines on audio cassette, CD, DAISY CD, MP3 download or digital full-text format by email, download or CD-ROM. Call RNIB on 0303 123 9999, helpline@rnib.org.uk, www.tnauk.org.uk

Local talking newspapers are available from the Talking News Federation. Tel 01793 497555, www.tnf.org.uk.

‘Big Print’ is a weekly subscription newspaper printed in black on white delivered by post. You can request a copy before subscribing. www.rnib.org.uk

Audio Books

RNIB Talking Books has over 23,000 free audio books on USB memory sticks and digital download. RNIB ‘Overdrive’ digital download is similar to ‘Kindle’ books. You can borrow and download talking books and magazines and podcasts for free. The National Library for the Blind is a collection of books mainly in Braille and giant print. Contact RNIB on

Calibre is a library of 8,500 on MP3 CD disks or USB memory sticks for a one-off fee. They sell inexpensive good quality equipment to play audio books on. Tel 01296 432339, enquiries@calibre.org.uk, www.calibre.org.uk

Players are available with pre-loaded books. Resource centres in Local Societies for the Visually Impaired may have audio book players available for demonstration.

Large Print

Most companies now proactively offer to provide bills and statements in alternative formats. If they don't, just contact their customer services department and ask them to send your documents in a format more suited to your needs, such as large print, braille or audio.

Companies and Government departments have a legal obligation under the Equality Act to make 'reasonable adjustments' like this for you. If they refuse, you can find further information and advice about your rights on the GovUK website: www.gov.uk

You can also ask for a note to be added to your account to highlight that you have sight loss or another impairment, so that when you are contacted by the bank or utility service they are aware of your situation and better able to help.

Large print products available include address books, calendars, diaries, puzzle books, playing cards and other games, as well as big button telephones and remote controls. Suppliers include:
